Copyrighted Materials

The Duplication of Copyright Materials with Permission

Copyright materials include books, magazines, other printed materials as well as non-print media such as films, photographs, videotapes, computer software, web pages, and any magnetic media. The following regulations apply:

1. Any copyrighted materials submitted for duplication must be accompanied by a permission letter from the copyright holder, and
2. Each item, article or chapter included in a course packet requires copyright permission or must fall with the guidelines of Fair Use.

Duplication of Copyright Materials according to “Fair Use”

Fair Use is generally defined as the right to use copyright materials in a reasonable manner for educational and non-profit use without consent of the copyright holder. Fair use can be determined by the following guidelines.

1. The purpose and character of the use, including whether the copied material will be for nonprofit, educational, or commercial use;
2. The nature of the copyrighted work, with special consideration given to the distinction between a creative work and an informational work;
3. The amount, substantiality, or portion used in the relation to the copyright work as a whole; and
4. The effect of the use on the potential market for the author or copyright holder.

It is the instructors’ responsibility to determine that the intended use falls within the scope of fair use and does not infringe upon the rights or potential profits of the copyright holder.

Photocopying Printed Materials

1. A single copy may be made by an instructor or at the request of an instructor for the purpose of research, preparation for instruction, or for instruction in a class.
 - A chapter from a book.

- An article from a periodical or newspaper
 - A short story, short essay or short poem, whether or not from a collective work
 - A chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon or picture from a book, periodical or newspaper.
2. Multiple copies (not to exceed any more than one copy per student) may be made for classroom use or discussion provided:
- It meets the guidelines of brevity and spontaneity (see definitions below)
 - It meets cumulative effect guideline (see definitions below)
 - Each copy includes a notice of copyright

Definition of Brevity:

Poetry & Prose: A complete poem if less than 250 words and not printed on more than two pages An excerpt from any prose work of not more than 1,000 words or 10 percent of the work, whichever is less, but in any event not more than 500 words.

Illustration: One chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon or picture per book or periodical.

Definition of Cumulative Effect:

The copying of material is for only one course. No more than one copy per student in the course should be made. No more than one short poem, article, story, essay or two excerpts may be copied from the same author, collective work or periodical during a semester.

Definition of Spontaneity:

The copying is at the instance and inspiration of the individual instructor. The inspiration and decision to use the work and the timing of its use for maximum educational effectiveness are so that it is unrealistic to expect a timely reply to a request for permission. This is a one-time use, if intended to use again permission must be received.

Works which may be Reproduced:

Some publications, such as journal articles or government documents, include a note offering the right to copy for educational purposes.

Categories of publications in the public domain or whose use is not protected by copyright law are

- Publications dated 1922 or earlier.
- Works that do not include a copyright notice and were first published before January 1, 1978, and
- Most United States government documents.

Once a work is in the public domain it is no longer eligible for copyright protection.

Audiovisual Materials

1. Classroom Use

Possession of a film or video does not necessarily imply the right to publicly view the work. The copyright holder will specify the circumstances under which a video can be viewed or “performed” at the time of purchase or rental. Videotaped programs from a rental outlet usually include a label that indicates “Home Use Only”; however, licensing of these media permits viewing in an educational institution under the following conditions:

- It is shown as part of an instructional program;
- It is shown by students, instructors, or guest lecturers only for the benefit of students and educators;
- It is shown in a classroom or other location devoted to instruction such as a studio, library, gymnasium, or auditorium; and
- A legitimate copy is used (not an illegally reproduced copy) with a copyright notice.

2. Copying Videotapes/Off-Air Recordings of Broadcasts; including Cable and Satellite TV

Copying videotapes without the copyright owner’s permission is illegal. An exception is made for libraries to archive backup copies or replace a work that is lost or damaged if another copy cannot be obtained.

The following “Fair Use” guidelines should be applied to viewing of off-air recordings.

- Videotaped recordings may be kept for no more than 45 calendar days after the recording date, at which time the tapes should be erased.
- Videotaped recordings should be shown to students only within the first 10 school days of the 45-day retention period.
- The recordings are to be viewed by students no more than two times during this 10 day period.
- The recording may not be physically or electronically altered and should include the copyright notice as recorded.

3. Network Distribution of Audiovisual materials and Distance Education

Copyright law makes an important distinction between face-to-face and distance education. Thus, we cannot assume that a video or other copyrighted visual used freely in the traditional classroom can be transmitted over a server, the Internet or via ITV without additional permission. When purchasing such materials closed-circuit distribution rights should be negotiated. Without explicit permission network transmission of video is not permissible unless “Classroom Use” guidelines are met.

Software Guidelines

1. Backup Copy: It is permissible for the owner of software to make a backup copy of the software to be held for use as an archival copy in the event the original disk fails. Such backup copies are not to be used on a second computer at the same time the original is in use.
2. Educational Software: Using educational licensed software for personal use is prohibited under licensing agreements.
3. Reproduction of Software Documentation: Reproducing software manuals without the written permission of the author/publisher is prohibited.

Use of Multimedia and Web Pages

Multimedia or other materials posted on web pages are considered to be copyrighted unless the copyright owner authorizes copying or it is in the public domain. If there is a question as to whether a copying materials from a particular site is permissible, permission should be obtained from the copyright holder or web master for that site.

Notice of Copyright Restrictions

1. Each department on campus that is responsible for the duplication of materials for distribution or instructional reserves must post warnings concerning copyright restrictions.
2. Every photocopy machine on campus must include signage warning faculty, staff or other patrons of copyright restrictions.

1. All courses for which credit for prior learning is awarded must have equivalent courses in the College curriculum. Partial credit will not be awarded.
2. Academic credit will be awarded only for those courses directly applicable to the student's certificate or degree program.

7. The Registrar is responsible for final approval or disapproval.

Credit by Examination

College Level Examination Program (CLEP) and Dantes Subject Standardized Tests (DSST) provide opportunity to earn academic credit for knowledge equivalent to that learned in the College classroom. These tests include general and subject examinations. SFCC uses ACE recommended scores for granting credit. SFCC does not accept CLEP or DSST credit to fulfill requirements for laboratory science or public speaking courses. Students must have a score report sent to the College to be evaluated for College credit.

Advanced Placement

SFCC grants credit for Advanced Placement test scores of 3 or higher. Students must have a score report sent to the College to be evaluated for College credit.

Departmental Exams

Credit may be awarded for departmental exams. Each academic department determines which courses have a test-out option and the minimum score to receive credit. An application to request a departmental exam must be submitted to the dean of that division. If the requirements to receive credit have been met, the paperwork will be forwarded to the Academic Records and Registrar Office to be evaluated for College credit. To receive the credit, students must enroll in the course(s) and pay tuition and fees for the course(s). Normal tuition and fees apply to any credits awarded.

Credit for Armed Service Experience

Advanced placement credit may be granted for educational training earned while in the armed services, according to the American Council of Education (ACE) recommendations. The credit must be appropriate to the degree sought. Students must submit a military transcript to be evaluated for College credit. In some cases (e.g. the course (s) were taken many years ago), a military transcript may not be available. Students will need to contact the Registrar's Office to determine what other documents are acceptable to be evaluated for College credit. Students will receive two physical activity credits upon submission of a DD-214. These credits do not count toward the wellness requirement.

Credit for Work Experience

Credit may be awarded for work experience and may only be applied to courses in the student's degree major. Specific requirements may vary by academic department. However, for any credit to be awarded, students must satisfactorily complete a significant capstone project, such as a major paper reflecting how lessons learned in that work experience can be applied to the discipline. An application to request credit for work experience (with documentation) must be submitted to the dean of that division. If the requirements to receive credit have been met, the paperwork will be forwarded to the Academic Records and Registrar Office to be evaluated for College credit. To receive the credit, students must enroll in the course(s) and pay appropriate tuition and fees. Normal tuition and fees apply to any credits awarded.

Adding a course

Students may add a course through the student portal or with their navigator up to the official last day to add as published on the Academic Dates and Deadlines. Enrollment will close at 11:59 p.m. on the published date for all courses in the part of term.

After enrollment closes for the part of term, students may add a course by appealing to the appropriate dean by filling out the Late Registration Request Form (available on mySTAR) up to the published late registration request date for the part of term. If permission is granted, the approval will be sent to the Academic Records and Registrar Office to add the student to the course. Instructors will not be able to add a student to their course without dean approval after the published date and any special permissions required remain in effect. Class attendance guidelines remain in effect if a student enrolls late for a course.

Students may not add an interim (minimester) course after the published date on the Academic Dates and Deadlines or enroll in more than one course during an interim (minimester) part of term.

Dropping a course

Students may drop a course through the student portal or with their navigator before the semester starts or until the official last day to drop as published on the Academic Dates and Deadlines. Approval is not required to drop a course. Students who have a hold on their account should send student name, ID number, CRN, course number/title, and instructor name to add-drop@sfccmo.edu using their SFCC email account. Notifying an instructor or navigator is not enough to officially drop a course.

Withdrawing from all courses

Students may drop all courses by completing the Student Withdrawal form through the student portal > Student tab > I need to. . . Withdraw from all classes before the semester starts or until the last day to drop as published on the Academic Dates and Deadlines. Students will not be permitted to withdraw from their last course or withdraw from all courses without completing this form. Notifying an instructor or navigator is not enough to officially drop all courses. A hold will not prevent a student from submitting this request.

Courses dropped before or during the 100% refund period will not appear on a transcript. Courses dropped after the 100% refund period will appear on a transcript with a grade of W.

Students are encouraged to contact their instructor, navigator and the financial aid office before dropping a course or withdrawing from all courses. Dropping a course or withdrawing from all courses may result in a financial obligation to the college, jeopardize insurance, financial aid, scholarships, and athletic participation eligibility. Failure to notify the college of an intent to drop a course or withdraw from all courses may result in a grade of F for the course(s).

Academic Honesty

Penalties for Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct violations will result in a minimum of a zero grade for the paper, assignment, or test on which the violation occurred. Instructors may recommend a more stringent course of action to the associate dean or director of the CTC or an Allied Health Program. Upon consultation with the instructor and the student, the associate dean, or in the case of an Allied Health Program or the Career and Technical Center, the program director, may choose an additional penalty. In very serious or repeated cases of academic misconduct, the penalty may include failure of the class or expulsion from the College. A description of academic misconduct, including specific descriptions of penalties for academic misconduct, will be included in the syllabus for each SFCC course. Faculty members and the associate dean or director should retain records of the final decision in a case of any academic misconduct for at least one (1) calendar year.

Academic Misconduct Appeals Procedure

Appeals for accusations of academic misconduct shall utilize the Academic Appeals Process outlines in Regulation 2160.

Instructional Delivery and Support Systems

Donald G. Proctor Library

Library Goals

1. To provide a welcoming student-centered and user-friendly environment that creates positive learning opportunities for individuals and groups engaged in research and study.
2. To employ, develop, and retain qualified and competent staff who individually and collectively achieve the mission, goals and program objectives of the library.
3. To strive to be a complete responsive information resource gateway for the College community by selecting materials and providing access to quality, relevant, up-to-date learning resources in a variety of formats that meet the institutional, instructional, and individual needs of students, staff, and faculty.
4. To create an infrastructure for effective information delivery, to fully utilize available and emerging technologies, and to teach skills that enhance academic success and lifelong learning.
5. To expand the resources available to our users by participating in regional, state, and national networking efforts aimed at bringing information to those engaged in learning, teaching and research.
6. To employ appropriate management techniques to develop, implement, and evaluate services and resources in the context of a changing internal and external environment.
7. To foster a heightened community awareness of how the transition from information to knowledge enhances the quality of life, enriches values, and impacts rational decision making.

Responsibility for Collection Development

To ensure that the collections support, enhance, and enrich College curricula and research and that they reflect the diversity of all disciplines, students, administration, faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in the selection process. If the item is consistent with the collection policy guidelines, and if money is available, the material will be acquired.

The Library Director acts as liaison to the academic disciplines for collection development. She consults with faculty members to obtain purchasing recommendations and also utilizes selection tools such as review publications, bibliographies, and publisher catalogs to select materials. Instructors are involved in previewing and evaluating non-print materials for purchase and are consulted during collection reevaluation. Ultimate responsibility for collection development lies with the Library Director.

As a MOBIUS member the SFCC Library has the option to purchase electronic databases at a substantial savings. The MOBIUS Electronic Advisory Committee (MERAC) makes recommendations for consortia purchase.

Budget

The library receives funding from the College to purchase or provide access to print, audio visual, and electronic materials. These resources may be supplemented by grants and gifts. The Library Director proportions the book and audio visual monies amongst the College departments at the beginning of the fiscal year. Instructors give ordering information to their Department Chairs, who, in turn, give them to the Library Director. Any audio visual monies not spent by a department by April 1st will be made available to the other departments. Any remaining book monies will be used to purchase standing order reference materials.

Criteria for Selection of Materials

The following general criteria are used to evaluate materials considered for addition to the collection:

- Relevance to the curriculum and appropriateness to the user.
- Timeliness and lasting value of material.
- Reputation of the author, issuing body, and/or publisher.
- Presentation: style, clarity, reading level.
- Special features: detailed logical, accurate index; bibliography; footnotes; appropriate illustrations.
- Physical and technical quality: paper, typography, and design; physical size; binding; durability.
- Ease of access or user-friendliness.
- Suitability of content to form.
- Depth of current holdings in the same or similar subject.
- Demand, frequency of interlibrary loan requests placed for material on the same or similar subject.
- Cost of material relative to the budget and other available material.
- Availability in alternate physical or online formats.

Evaluation of the Collection

To assure a high quality, useful and up-to-date collection, the library will periodically evaluate the collection for the elimination of obsolete and worn-out items and to identify weak areas in the collection. The following categories of materials are most obvious candidates for weeding:

1. Too badly worn or damaged to be mended.
2. Materials that are too technical and beyond the comprehension of the users.
3. Those which contain materials and illustrations that are outdated or no longer true.
4. Multiple copies of materials no longer in demand.
5. Mediocre materials, the context of which adds neither to the information nor appreciation of the user.
6. Media which has been superseded by new and revised materials.
7. Materials that have not been circulating in the last 5-10 years. This criterion will not apply to volumes in the history and literature sections and to volumes.
8. Irrelevant materials, the subject matter of which is no longer part of the curriculum (faculty recommendation).
9. Books which have fine print, yellowed or brittle pages, or missing pages that cannot be replaced.

Between three and five percent of the collection is replaced annually. Faculty members will be consulted when materials in their disciplines are being considered for withdrawal. Biannually, faculty from each department will be required to review library holdings in their areas of expertise in order to identify current information, classic materials, and any gaps that the library should fill through acquisition. Deselection often results in a list of titles or topics that need replacement. Thus, it becomes part of the selection process. Faculty will be given one month to review their areas and pull materials they feel are outdated. The Library Director will review the pulled items before final disposition. Upon her recommendation, the cataloger will remove the records for the withdrawn items from the online catalog. All materials with library identification markings must have said markings removed and over-stamped with "withdrawn" before disposal. Items removed from the collection will be discarded or placed on the free table. Encyclopedias which are replaced by new editions are given to other departments or off-campus sites. If a patron damages library material beyond repair and pays for its replacement, he/she may have the damaged item if requested. All books to be replaced are first checked with Books In Print, and consideration is given to their current place in the collection.

Policy on Challenged Materials

The library strives to select materials representing all sides of various issues. Because of this, some materials in our collection may be considered controversial by certain aspect of an issue. Instead, our goal is to provide materials representing diverse viewpoints in support of our academic offerings and to suit varied backgrounds of our students, faculty and staff. If any of our users has a complaint regarding our library material, they may fill out a "Request for Reconsideration of Learning Resource Materials" form located at the circulation desk. This form will be reviewed by the Library Director and a decision made regarding the challenged material. The complainant will receive a written copy of the decision.

Gifts

The library welcomes donations of books and other material that will enhance the collection. The Library Director reserves the right to accept or reject gifts. The library accepts gifts only on the condition that it may dispose of those items that will not be accessioned into the collection. Gift material will be reviewed using the same criteria outlined under “Criteria for Selection of Materials”. Materials must be of such a nature that they can be integrated into the existing collection, not requiring special facilities, controls or staffing. Donations that do not meet these guidelines will be disposed of as the library sees fit, either through discard or put out on the free table. The Library Director will not provide any estimation of value for any donated item but will provide written acknowledgment of the gift, at the donor’s request. The library assumes no responsibility for the use donors make of such acknowledgments.

Policy on Stolen/Damaged Materials

The State Fair Community College Library’s policy on stolen and damaged materials follows the guidelines of the vandalism policy as stated in the Student Handbook. Specifically, any of the following actions are considered acts of vandalism:

1. Removing targets from library materials.
2. Tearing or removing pages from books or magazines.
3. Mutilating or otherwise damaging tapes, cassettes, records, or any other SFCC library material.
4. Removing SFCC library materials without authorization (i.e., through the official check-out system)
5. Failing to take proper care of checked-out materials, resulting in damage.

Any student, employee, or other patron who commits any of the above acts is subject to penalties which may range from a notation on his/her library file, a fine of five dollars for removing a target, or loss of library privileges. Patrons will be billed for replacement costs of damaged materials and may lose library privileges until accounts are paid in full. Students with outstanding library accounts may have grades, transcripts, and/or diplomas held until their obligations have been met. More serious offenses may result in additional disciplinary procedures as outlined in the SFCC Student Conduct Code and/or the SFCC Employee Handbook.

Library Computers

The use of computers at the Donald C. Proctor Library is governed by the College's Computer Use and Internet Policy.

Resource Sharing

Students, faculty and staff have access to the holdings of 50+ academic institutions in Missouri who are members of MOBIUS. Library patrons can request to have books sent to the library from MOBIUS consortium members. Daily couriers' service ensures the expeditious delivery of requested items.

Distance Education

Types of Online Courses

1. Online: A term that refers to courses offered exclusively online with no identified course meeting times. They are offered exclusively through a course management system. Courses do not require students to be physically present at any scheduled time.
2. Web Conference: A term that refers to courses offered exclusively online with specifically identified class times that follow SFCC requirements for length and duration of classes. Online synchronous courses are offered using a course management system and the Web conferencing software.
3. Hybrid: This type of course combines scheduled classroom time and online components with instructional elements that are distributed via a course management system, Web conferencing software, computerized instruction, or other means.

Scheduling of Courses

Program Course Rotation: Every online program shall publish and maintain a course rotation schedule. The schedule will note the courses that will be offered within each online degree program or certificate by Fall 1, Fall 2, Spring 1, Spring 2, and Summer. Interim courses may be offered outside of any published rotation. At a minimum, program rotations will also note 8-week and 16-week course options to allow program completion.

Scheduling of individual course sections and assignment of faculty will be conducted by the Director of SFCC Online, based on the rotation schedule, availability of faculty, and the scheduling philosophy as follows:

1. Within limits of space and faculty resources we will guarantee a “seat” for anyone wanting to enroll within the 42-hour general education core, in basic skills courses and in online programming, either by:
 - a. Adding a new course section of that online course if that same course is not offered in the next 8-week term.
 - b. Over-riding course size limits up to 3 students.
2. Classes will be cancelled only in rare circumstances.

Course Development, Design, and Maintenance

New Course Approval Process: Any course in the SFCC catalog may be developed for online delivery. A list of developed courses is maintained by the Director of SFCC Online.

Course development will be initiated by completion of the SFCC Online Course Development Proposal Form and must be approved for development by the Director of SFCC Online.

The SFCC Online Course Development Proposal Form details the process to be followed and steps required for approval of the course offering. All new SFCC Online courses approved for development will follow the Quality Matters design standards for online courses. Prior to offering the course for the first time, it will be reviewed by the course designer and the Director of SFCC Online. As part of the review, the course must achieve a minimum score of 81 on the QM rubric scoring and a score of “3” for each of the 20 required elements. When the proposed new course satisfies all requirements, the Director of SFCC Online will approve the course and it will be added to the course schedule.

Online Lead Instructor: Each course approved for online delivery will be assigned an online lead instructor who will maintain the master course shell. The master course shell will be available to upload into the course management system at least three weeks prior to the beginning of each semester. The specific content appropriate to each master course shell will be dependent on the needs of that course as defined by the online lead instructor for that course. The Director of SFCC Online will maintain a list of all online lead instructors.

Compensation for Online Lead Instructor: No additional compensation will be paid to the online lead instructor for preparation of the master course shell; however, the online lead instructor will be given first-option of teaching new course sections not to exceed the number of courses that can be taught on-line by individual instructors.

Duties of the Online Lead Instructor: The online lead instructor will be responsible for the overall development and maintenance of the online master course shell in coordination with the SFCC lead instructor. Those duties include, but are not limited to:

- coordination with the other faculty teaching the same course;
- creation and maintenance of the online master course shell on the SFCC development site;
- maintaining the online course shell to Quality Matters course design standards; and,
- preparation of an instructor’s notes section for the shell, noting a folder by folder of what additional materials and/or topics need to be inserted in the shell or updated by the assigned online instructor.

Updating and Maintenance of the Online Master Course Shell: The online lead instructor will maintain the online master course shell and make routine updates and semester changes, including changes resulting from:

- date-sensitive material that typically changes from semester to semester; and,
- new textbook adoption.

Due Dates for Online Master Course Shell Updates: Updates for online master course shells are due no later than three weeks prior to the start of the semester to allow other users of the shell adequate time to update their version within SFCC Online.

Existing Course Review Process: All SFCC Online classes will align with Quality Matters design standards. At least once per year, each online master course shell class will be self-evaluated by the lead online lead instructor using the Quality Matters scoring rubric.

Additionally, each online class will be evaluated by an SFCC Quality Matters Peer Review Committee on a three-year cycle coinciding with the three-year full-time faculty evaluation cycle of the lead instructor of the course. The expected outcome of this process is that one-third of all SFCC Online courses will be evaluated against the rubric each year.

Course Evaluation: Every online course section is evaluated using the same online course instrument used by on-ground faculty. Results of those evaluations are shared with each faculty member using the CoursEval software or equivalent method as chosen by SFCC.

Online Adjunct Faculty Evaluation: Each adjunct faculty member teaching online will participate in an online course observation once per calendar year. For those adjunct faculty teaching on-ground and online, only one evaluation will be conducted- either online or on-ground in coordination with the appropriate dean and the Director, SFCC Online. This evaluation will consist of a pre-evaluation instrument completed by the adjunct faculty member, a course shell observation form completed by the Director, SFCC Online after examining the adjunct instructor's course shell and history to date, and a post-evaluation conference between the online faculty member and the Director, SFCC Online, and a post-evaluation form signed by the Director SFCC Online and adjunct faculty member.

The Online Adjunct Faculty Evaluation will, at minimum, address the following criteria:

- Alignment of the course shell to Quality Matters standards and design elements.
- Instructor alignment with the Online Instructor Semester Checklist prepared and distributed each semester.
- Patterns of instructor access to the online course shell and in demonstrated student interaction in the online course.
- Maintenance of an up to date course gradebook within the course.

Quality Control: The Director of SFCC Online may periodically gain access to online classes during the semester for the purposes of quality control, investigation into student complaints, and verification of student attendance should circumstances warrant. In normal circumstances, the Director will provide advance notice of such access, but some circumstances may preclude such notice. In such cases, instructors will be notified of such access by the Director within five days.

Faculty Recruitment and Hiring

Recruiting: SFCC Online seeks outstanding full-time and adjunct faculty for all courses and programs without regard to physical or geographical location. Applications are accepted on a continuous basis, and are evaluated against current and projected vacancies.

Hiring Process: Prospective new adjunct instructors will be selected from the applications made through the SFCC Website. The Director of SFCC Online will evaluate the applications and select candidates for interviews. Interviews will be conducted either in person or via Web conferencing software.

Faculty Requirements for a Teaching an Online Course: To be qualified to teach for SFCC Online, two specific requirements must be satisfied: 1) The faculty member must be academically qualified to teach that particular course based on their academic credentials regardless of delivery method, and 2) they must meet SFCC Online standards for teaching an online course.

For faculty without prior experience teaching an online class, two preparation and training courses are required. A two-credit-hour class, Introduction to Teaching Online, provides a faculty member with an immersion experience in the processes and teaching methods necessary to effectively teach in the online environment. An additional two-credit-hour class, Teaching with LMS software, provides an SFCC specific course on the current course management system and how to operate within SFCC policies and expectations for using that software.

Faculty who have previous background and/or experience in teaching online will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis by the Executive Director, SFCC Online.

A list of faculty approved to teach online will be maintained by the Director of SFCC Online.

Faculty Load: Full-time faculty may teach up to 6 credit hours online as part of their regular full-time 15 credit hours of load per term. Additional online credit hours may be taught as overload. Adjunct instructors are limited to 12 credit hours per term.

Continuing Education: SFCC Online encourages all faculty to participate in continuing education offered through the SFCC Brain Café. A schedule of training, coaching, and assistance is available through the Brain Café for both on-ground and through Web conference classes.

Faculty Compensation

Development compensation for online courses: A development compensation rate of one credit hour for each credit hour of the course to be taught will be paid for the development of an online course. For example, three credit hours will be paid for a three-credit-hour course being developed. Development compensation will be paid only for an online course which has not previously been developed for State Fair Community College. Compensation will be paid as straight overload pay for full-time faculty or equivalent to a three credit hour course for adjunct instructors.

Teaching Compensation for Online Courses

- Online faculty shall be paid at a rate equivalent to 1.25 credit hours for each 1 credit hour taught. Full-time faculty pay will be paid as overload for all online courses taught, as long as the faculty member meets their 15 credit hour minimum full-time load.
- Web Conference: faculty shall be paid at a rate equivalent to 1.25 credit hours for each 1 credit hour taught. Full-time faculty pay will be paid as overload for all Web conference courses taught, as long as the faculty member meets their 15 credit hour minimum full-time load.
- Hybrid courses will be paid on the on-ground instruction scale.

Program Coordination: Some online adjunct instructors may be recruited as program coordinators for appropriate online degrees or certificates where no corresponding on-ground program, degree, or certificate exists. Identified program coordinators will be paid at a rate equivalent to 3 credit hours per calendar year, paid one-half for the fall term and one-half for the spring term.

Student Services

SFCC Online will provide comparable student services to online students to enable them to maximize their educational experience without the need to access on-ground campus services. Those services include, but are not limited to the following:

- new student enrollment
- placement testing
- course registration (including adds and drops)
- student advising
- accessibility services
- library resources
- academic tutoring
- financial aid
- technical assistance via help-desk

These services may be accessible via the SFCC website, e-mail communications, web-conferencing, contracted software support, and phone communications.

1. Technical training in the use of ITV and other instructional technologies will be provided by Educational Technology Services.
2. An Online Teaching and Learning course or teaching and learning series will be provided for faculty along with faculty development in pedagogical considerations, best practices, and support services to teach quality distance learning courses through the Brain Cafè, the employee technology training center.

Enrollment Loads Enrollment loads for online, Web conference, and hybrid courses will be the same as comparable on-ground courses, unless approved by the instructor and the Director of SFCC Online. (approved 8/23/10)

The AEL Career Continuous certification is continuous upon verification by the employing school district that the certificate holder has participated in a performance-based teacher evaluation and completed sixty (60) contact hours within three (3) continuous years.

High Quality Career Continuous Requirements

The AEL Career Continuous holder is exempt from professional development hours, if the holder has a local professional development plan in place with the school and has the following:

1. Ten (10) years of state-approved AEL teaching experience (one year is defined as one fiscal year hired by a state-approved AEL program as an AEL teacher); and
2. A master's degree from an accredited college or university.

All program administrators and teachers in an AEL funded program must have a valid AEL teaching certificate. Local program directors may have Professional Development requirements above and beyond the Educator's Certification and the State AEL office requirements.

Transfer of Credit

Students who have attended other Colleges (including dual credit courses taken while in high school) must request that an official transcript be sent to State Fair Community College. The transcript can be mailed to the SFCC Academic Records and Registrar Office; it can be brought to the Student Services Office at the Sedalia campus or to an extended campus site in a sealed envelope from the sending College's Academic Records and Registrar office; or, it can be faxed from the sending College registrar's office with a cover sheet to the SFCC Academic Records and Registrar Office. Any other form of transcript will be considered "unofficial" and will not be accepted for transfer credit. Official transcripts are required to transcript credit.

Credit is evaluated and transcribed from Colleges that are accredited by a national or regional association (e.g. North Central Association of Colleges and Schools). For a list of these associations, contact the SFCC Academic Records and Registrar Office. Courses completed from Colleges that are not accredited by one of the national or regional associations may be considered for College credit. Courses descriptions or course syllabi must be submitted to the appropriate course dean for review. The dean's decision is final and may be made in consultation with the department.

All grades (except withdrawals) are transcribed. When a student repeats an equivalent transfer course at SFCC, the higher of the two grades will be used to calculate hours earned and the GPA. The repeated course and grade remain on the SFCC transcript.

Transfer courses for which SFCC has an equivalent course will be transcribed with the SFCC subject code, course number and credit hours. If there is no equivalent SFCC course, the transfer course will be coded on the student's transcript to indicate which degree requirement it fulfills. Developmental courses (numbered below 100) are transcribed and if there is not a direct equivalency to an SFCC developmental course it will be transcribed using DVLP 000. Grades earned in developmental courses are included in a student's GPA beginning Fall 2008. Developmental courses do not apply to a certificate or degree. Any student that has received a Bachelor's degree or higher and is returning to SFCC to pursue an AAS, AAT, AS degree, or certificate will only have the courses that apply to that major transcribed. If a student changes his or her major, a request must be made to have transfer credit reevaluated. Any student who is classified as a visiting student or a personal interest student will only have prerequisite courses transcripted. Equivalency guides for Colleges that SFCC accepts transfer credit from can be found at www.sfccmo.edu.

Official transcripts are evaluated and transfer credit is entered by the Registrar on the student's SFCC transcript. This process usually occurs within a few weeks of receiving the transcript. Students transferring credit over 15 years old may be asked to provide course descriptions or course syllabi to determine SFCC course equivalency. Some departments have time limits for transfer courses. A course may transfer as an SFCC equivalent but because of its age may not be applicable to a specific major. Students can view the credit that has been accepted on mySTAR.

If a student does not agree with the evaluation of a course, he/she may submit a catalog course description or course syllabus from the sending College to have the course re-evaluated by the Registrar. If the appeal regarding the disputed course is not resolved, the student may appeal utilizing the Grievance and Appellate Process as outlined in Regulation 2160. Credit earned by credit-by-exam (CLEP, DSST or AP) and from non-traditional sources (military experience, standardized occupational testing or department exams) are reviewed by the Registrar and credit may be granted if applicable.

SFCC is a Service members Opportunity College (SOC). Under this status, SFCC agrees to work with other SOC schools by accepting all credits from these schools. SFCC also agrees to provide in-district tuition rates for military members wanting to attend SFCC.

Transfer credit is awarded for courses completed at Colleges and universities outside the United States that are accredited or approved by the Ministry of Education (or other appropriate government agency) of the country in which they are located. The transcripts must be translated into English and evaluated course-by-course by one of the recognized transcript evaluation services. A student may be asked to provide course descriptions or course syllabi to determine course equivalencies. Contact the Academic Records and Registrar Office for information.

Any irregularities in transcripts that are received will be checked and if a document is determined to not be authentic, admission will be denied and registration at SFCC will be cancelled.

All College transcripts must be on file prior to enrollment. A registration hold will be placed on the student's record until all official transcripts have been submitted.
