Why Theatre Arts

State Fair Community College's Theatre Arts program is dedicated to serving students and communities by offering professional quality instruction and productions. Creativity, talent and imagination are traits shared by theatre students at SFCC. The Associate of Fine Arts (AFA) degree offers a solid foundation that enables students to transfer to a four-year program. Faculty work closely with colleges, universities and professional schools to ensure students are well prepared for upper division courses when they graduate with an AFA.

The program is very active and has many opportunities for students to gain valuable experience. Each year there are five productions, including three full-length plays, a children's show and student directed one-act plays.

Community College Review recognized the program as one of the top theatre programs in the country in a September 2016 article titled, "Performing Arts at Community Colleges: Best Music and Theater Programs."

Advantages of SFCC Theatre

- › Low-cost tuition and free tuition for qualified A+ students
- › Low student-teacher ratio
- › Many theatrical opportunities your freshman and sophomore years because you don't have to compete with juniors, seniors and graduate students
- › One of the finest theatres in Missouri and a flexible space studio theatre
- › Friendly, qualified and professional faculty who care about your success as a student and theatre practitioner
- › Opportunities for student-directed productions
- › Acting and technical scholarships available

The Stauffer Theatre underwent a $500,000 renovation in 2017 that included a new sound system. It is a proscenium arch theatre with 24 fly lines, computerized lighting, fully-equipped scene shop, large modern dressing rooms, and a makeup area and costume shop. It seats 239 for an exceptional audience experience.

The Thompson O'Sullivan Studio Theatre focuses on intimate performances and allows for stage and seating configurations to change into venues such as theatre in the round, corner seating or arena seating for 80 to 90. The studio theatre is used for a main stage production; the annual Student Theatre Showcase; rehearsals; theatre classes; and other college and community events.
